Mary Baldwin Enters Her Second Century

The William Wayt King Memorial Gymnasium and Auditorium

The 1943 Bluestocking

Annual Publication of the Student Body of Mary Baldwin College, Staunton, Virginia

Dedic

In these days of separation, our minds and hearts are always with the boys and men who are fighting our battles in the air, in many lands, and on far seas. Since they cannot be with us to share the happiness of our college years, our thoughts bring them to us across the reaches of time and space and their names are inscribed in our hearts.

To these boys and men whom we love, we of Mary Baldwin dedicate this

THE BLUESTOCKING OF 1943

Foreword

Mary Baldwin enters her second century proudly and confidently, although in the midst of a world conflict. She has survived four other wars and has always remembered her motto: "Non pro tempore sed aeternitate."

We feel that in the Bluestocking of 1943 we should record something of the fighting spirit presented in the all-out war effort of both the students and faculty. We prophesy a future as bright and as full of accomplishment as has been characteristic of the past.

To symbolize this fighting spirit we choose the pictures of four of our faculty members who have entered the service of the United States:

Ensign Winifred Love

Captain Carl Broman

Private Edward P. Vandiver, Jr.

A Message from Our President

The first annual of the new century naturally calls to mind the school and the student of one hundred years ago.

The student of 1842 probably thought that hers was a static sort of world, offering stability and security, with little evidence or promise of rapid change. You of 1943 know that yours is a world of rapid, even violent, change. The difference, however, is not necessarily so much the rate of change as the knowledge of it, which is rendered possible by the century's development in the science of communication, which has been revolutionary in its impact upon the life of the world.

The college woman of today then is oriented to a changing world, and is geared to it as a driving or a driven member, as the case may be. This is very good. You need not fear change; what you may fear is that in the midst of change you lose sight of certain fundamental principles which have been the basis for the present state of attainment.

What are these abiding values? They are the Christian principle with all of its implications, and the validity of sound learning and straight thinking. On these your college has builded for one hundred years. These are her heritage, and yours, in the new century.

Such is my message this century morn to you, the students of Mary Baldwin. In the first student body one hundred years ago was a Mary Julia Baldwin. Each of you, abiding in the strength of these principles, may re-capture something of her spirit of faith and service, and build a life worthy of your heritage.

The Student Government Association

Our Student Government Association is based upon personal honor and cooperation. Each individual honor code is united with that of the entire student body and forms a code understood and followed by all alike. The honor system thereby set up applies to every phase of our college life and helps to create an attitude of trust and understanding.

Each student becomes a member of the Association when she enters Mary Baldwin and shares in the rights and responsibilities of self-government. Through student government we hope to further every girl's education in learning to become a good citizen by giving her the opportunity to live as an honorable and unselfish individual in a community and of assuming the duties placed upon a student governing group. To learn to live wisely, worthily, and well, to share life's burdens and responsibilities, to be honorable in all things, should be the purpose of every Mary Baldwin girl.

The students have elected a group to watch over its Student Government system and also to represent them to the officials of the College and the Faculty. This group is the Student Council.

The Y. W. C. A.

Inspired by a visiting secretary of the Student Volunteer Movement in May, 1894, and organized by the students the following fall, the Y.W.C.A. has from its inception been a student organization with student officers.

For nearly fifty years it has been representing the fourfold realm of development in the Christian life—mental, physical, social, and spiritual.

In fostering the democratic spirit of discussion and intellectual stimulation, the Y.W.C.A. has brought to the campus during the past year many qualified Christian leaders—a Richmond Theological Seminary student for the May installation service, many town ministers for vesper programs and chapel speeches, and Dr. Sherwood Eddy for a general discussion visit. Often the organization, especially through its World Fellowship Committee, draws from its own student members for leadership in discussion programs.

Physical and social life are by no means considered unimportant—a fact well-attested by the Big-Sister-Little-Sister program (an arrangement designed to make the new girl feel at home when she reaches college), the Hallowe'en party, the Peanut Party after Christmas holidays, and the informal gatherings throughout the year.

Spiritual life is emphasized in the Sunday vesper services, the weekly dormitory devotionals, the Religious Emphasis Week (which was directed by Dr. Redhead of Charlotte, N. C., this spring), and the Christmas and Easter special programs. These event can hardly encompass the whole of the Y.W.'s spiritual emphasis, however; for that emphasis comes in the attempted integration of heart, mind, and body into a useful and constructive personality.

Among the activities growing from such an integration are the weekly visits to the Virginia School for the Deaf and Blind and to the Betty Bickle Home for Old Ladies; the interest in and financial help to the white and colored day nurseries and to the Mary Baldwin Room at the King's Daughters' Hospital; and the sponsorship of Christmas buying for Staunton and mountain poor families. A Y.W.C.A. scholarship fund reached the $1,000 point last year and is this year aiming toward a principal-and-interest combination that will render an annual $50 scholarship. Financial aid was given to a negro student at Stillman Institute this year and to a British refugee child. Annual contributions are made to the National Y.W.C.A. organization and to special causes, such as the Golden Rule Foundation, the World Student Service Federation, and the World Student Service Fund.

Many valuable contacts and friendships have been made through the organization, and many more are yet to come.

The Bluestocking

THE BLUESTOCKING, the college yearbook, is edited by a staff chosen from the Junior class, and a representative from each of the other classes.

Each year the members of the editorial and business staff, working in close cooperation with our sponsor, Miss Fannie Strauss, try to present to the Senior class a radiant last look at their college days.

We strive, in some small way, to add some part to their scope of memories here.

The Editor-in-Chief and Business Manager are elected by the students and the associate staff is carefully chosen to aid in the success and influence of this annual.

The Centennial BLUESTOCKING (1942 issue), edited by Virginia Brading, was given First Class Honor Rating by the National Scholastic Press Association. One of our sister colleges, in her Alumnæ publication, mentioned it as an outstanding yearbook celebrating an important occasion.

The Miscellany

Forty-four years ago the first issue of The Miscellany appeared—an issue that closely resembled a newspaper. But in 1901 the first magazine-issue came into being. The size was small, the cover was plain, and the print was crowded. But The Miscellany was started on its way! From then until the present time it has—in all its changing forms—tried to encourage creative writing and to stimulate interest through publishing these student contributions.

The early issues, however, still retained much of its very first resemblance to a newspaper. Odd bits of news, sorority and club functions, personals, and a page entitled "Humorous" were frequently used.

February 1904 marked not only the addition of a cover design, but also the use of color in that design. In this issue too, appeared the first illustration. In three years another significant change took place—the addition of ads.

In the following years as Mary Baldwin grew by leaps and bounds The Miscellany grew just as rapidly. The print became larger, the pages more numerous, the art work more frequent, and the material more selected and original.

By 1933 the complete change to a literary magazine had been effected. Parodies, reviews, fashions, and short story contests were gradually added along with change in make-up.

It was in 1938 that The Miscellany received the All-American honor rating. In '42 it was awarded the highest honor bestowed annually on magazines of its classification by the Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association.

Though many changes have occurred since the first issue forty-four years ago, and though many changes will continue to take place in the future, the aim of The Miscellany has been, and always will be to encourage literary works, increase campus interest, and to grow forever upward and onward along with the college it represents.

Campus Comments

Campus Comments, the weekly newspaper of the college, endeavors to always act as the true voice of the students and to reflect the Mary Baldwin spirit. Edited, written, and planned by the students, it is a complete record of the events of the college year and an expression of student opinion. Campus Comments has tried to take the lead in formation of student opinion as well as serving as an organ of expression. With Day Students and underclassmen holding important staff positions and contributing regularly, the paper is representative of the entire student body. Although the newspaper is closely affiliated with the journalism classes, much of it is written by other students.

This year the paper has made a consistent effort to keep the students war conscious by cooperating with the Federal Government through its news coverage by publishing articles stressing the important role of the college in wartime and through its editorial columns. One of Campus Comments' unique features is a regular column of editorial comment on national and world affairs.

Although Campus Comments is strictly a student publication, the unobtrusive, but indispensable aid of Dr. Mary Swan Carroll, faculty adviser, has resulted in many improvements. For several years Dr. Lillian Thomsen, acting as staff photographer, has taken attractive informal pictures which have added immeasurably to the reader appeal of the paper.

Each year of the nineteen since Campus Comments first appeared as a fortnightly bulletin-size paper has seen improvements and an effort at better workmanship in order to make the newspaper an interesting and vital part of the college life.

Mary Baldwin Honor Society

The Mary Baldwin Honor Society was founded in 1932. The purpose of the organization is to promote and recognize scholarship. The college, always ready to foster academic excellence, is pleased to honor those who have achieved such distinction and hopes that the Society will prove to be a challenge and an inspiration to all students of the institution. Members of the Honor Society are chosen by the faculty.

The graduates of the University Course of Augusta Female Seminary and Mary Baldwin Seminary were elected to the Honor Society in May 1942. Many of these alumnæ were initiated into the Society at the Centennial Celebration in June and others on Founders' Day in October.

Members of the Class of 1943 who have been elected to the Society are:

Algeron Sydney Sullivan Award

The New York Southern Society, in order to perpetuate the memory of Algernon Sydney Sullivan (through whose efforts the Society was founded), in such a form that shall be most expressive of his character, established an award to be made in certain Southern colleges, to one member of the graduating class of each institution selected. Each school may present this award to another person, not a member of the student body, in whom accomplishment and service are outstanding, and who shall have some interest in, association with, or relation to said institution.

Adelaide McSween (Mrs. Roy Burnett, Jr.), President of the Student Body, was presented with this award at the 1942 Commencement.

Athletic Association

Athletic activities are an important feature in the college program. The activities are worked out in such a way that interest in sports prevails throughout the year.

In the fall the main sport is hockey. Each year a team is picked from each class to compete for the hockey championship. At the end of the season a varsity team, made up of the best players, is chosen.

During the winter basketball has long been popular. This year interest in it has been enhanced through the completion of the new gym.

Swimming has interested almost the whole student body this year. The new pool has afforded everyone an opportunity to take courses in life-saving, to enter periodic meets or to merely enjoy swimming in leisure moments.

Modern dancing also holds an important place in the interest of many students. Other sports which are enjoyed throughout the year are: badminton, bowling, pool, archery, golf and tennis.

Hockey

Hockey is the major year round sport at Mary Baldwin, and a favorite with all classes.

During the year competitive games are held between classes. At the Athletic Association banquet in the spring, a cup is presented to the class which has won the most games.

The varsity team, which is chosen in the late fall, is the aspiration of every girl. This team is chosen by the Athletic Council, or a special committee, on the basis of skill, sportsmanship, and interest.

Basketball

Basketball, the leading winter sport, is enjoyed by both faculty and students. Games are held in the gym daily, and several nights during the week.

The faculty-senior game in the early Spring is looked forward to with great enthusiasm by everyone at the college; this year the score was 8-4 in favor of the seniors.

The varsity team is chosen from the different class teams, with playing ability, sportsmanship, and interest its requirements.

TENNIS

Tennis is one of the favorite fall and spring sports. Classes are held for the beginners and the more advanced play games. The Tennis season is climaxed by a Tournament in the spring, the players of which are taken from all classes. The winner of the Tournament is presented a Trophy at the Athletic Association banquet at the end of the year.

GOLF

Though golf is not a major sport, it is a popular one at Mary Baldwin. In the fall and spring, many enthusiastic golfers go to the Ingleside course and the Gypsy Hill course to play.

BADMINTON

Badminton is a new addition to the many sports offered at Mary Baldwin, and has fast become a popular one. The game requires skill and speed. Games are played in the gym daily.

BOWLING

Bowling has become an even more popular sport this year. Girls go weekly to the alleys at the "Y," or to the Family Bowling Center to test their skill.

During examinations the game is especially popular. This year, at that time, a bowling contest was held for anyone who wished to enter.

SWIMMING

Swimming is a year round sport, which has become even more popular this year with the spacious pool in the new gym.

Swimming classes are held daily for beginners; free swimming periods both day and night for the swimmers; life-saving classes and Red Cross instructor's course for the advanced.

This year Mary Baldwin entered the Virginia Telegraphic meet, which consisted of a comparison of the scores of the colleges in Virginia in the 100-yard dash, 50-yard back crawl, 20-yard breast stroke, 240-yard relay, and diving. The three highest scores from each college are sent in for comparison.

The swimming season is climaxed by a swimming meet, in which all classes participate.

Sports

ARCHERY

Archery is one of the favorite sports on the campus. It is practically a year round sport, except for the two or three coldest winter months.

The year is climaxed by the archery tournament in the Spring. The winner of the contest is presented a trophy at the Athletic Association banquet, which is held at the end of the school year.

SOFTBALL

Although softball is classed as a minor sport, it attracts a great number of people at the college. It is the most enjoyable part of the school picnics in the fall and spring.

The faculty-student game in the fall is a much anticipated event.

POOL

MODERN DANCING

Modern dances classes are held several times a week in the gym. This type of dancing gives better coordination and grace to its participants.

These classes are the basis of the dances in the commencement pageant.

Looking the situation over—Picnic time is play time—Getting some late fall sun—Smiling beauties—Pat and Joan enjoying life—The winner—Hello down there—Rollicking with the farmerettes—A five girl chorus—Recess between classes—Hair drying on the steps of Hill Top—We know whom you're thinking of.

Nellie, the students' best friend—Filling the Christmas boxes—Campus "Cut-ups"—Pictures of Pictures—To the Club House—Peek-a-boo—There's something about a balcony—What cave women—Nelson in wading—Food, the best part of a picnic—Some more snow queens—Freshmen in a huddle—Bathing in the snow—At the end of a hike.
